

Early Footprints in Christchurch

Slowly Enter in the New World!

Your first day in Christchurch isn't about hitting the ground running — it's more about warming up. You've just arrived from a long flight, your body is probably still tired, your head is still foggy, and your emotions aren't quite settled. So, let's start off with a calmer start.

Arrival & Rest

Upon arrival at Christchurch Airport, it's a good idea to arrange a car rental first.

Popular options to consider include Apex, EZ Car, or Avis — depending on your budget and comfort level

Next, continue your journey to your Airbnb accommodation. Drop off your stuff, shower, and take a break. Don't feel guilty about doing nothing. Healing needs rest too. Today, we just want to introduce ourselves to the new air and atmosphere — without the pressure.

1ST DAY ITINERARY

Afternoon Activities:

Garden and Peace

After you've refreshed yourself a bit, head out for some light activities:

Christchurch Botanic Gardens

Admission is free. You can stroll slowly through the beautifully maintained flower gardens, listening to the birds and the Avon River. There's no need to rush — just go at your own pace.

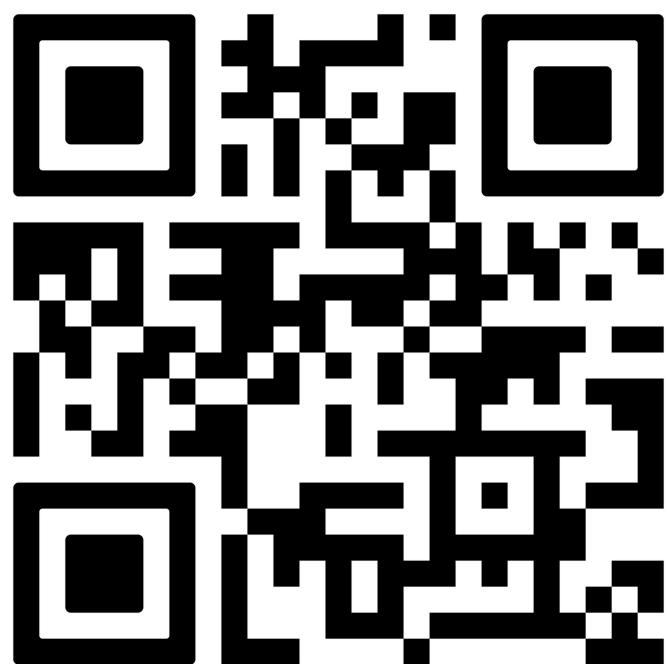

Hagley Park

Adjacent to the Botanic Gardens, this is one of the largest parks in Christchurch. If you have time, start at the north end (there are public toilets), and if you have more energy, continue south. The walking trails here are perfect for those of you who just want to breathe and calm your mind.
